

Home Learning College has designs on your future with new Web certificate

Develop your Internet skills with the new course from Home Learning College

Home Learning College, the UK's largest provider of home study courses, is introducing a new Certified Internet Web Associate course: CIW Foundations v5. The qualification is aimed at all professionals who use the Internet and is especially relevant to those in fields that depend on Web-enabled systems for productivity; such as sales, business development, advertising and technical recruiting.

The CIW Foundations v5 Certificate is comprised of three mandatory units, which teach students about Internet technologies, Web authoring with XHTML, project management as well as network infrastructure and troubleshooting. These elements combined prepare students to take the CIW exam and enable them to gain CIW associate status.

Qualification: CIW Foundations v5 certificate

Where: Home study

Length of course: Home study allows you to complete the course in your own time around your every day commitments

The course is aimed at both those already in an IT role and those in other industries looking to learn about Web design and the Internet. No prior Internet experience is required, however students should be familiar with operating systems such as Microsoft Windows XP and have a basic level of computer literacy before embarking on the course.

Home Learning College provides all the materials needed for this course including all relevant books, learning materials and software. Dedicated tutor support is also provided via one-to-one telephone mentoring and supported by online and offline correspondence.

To find more about the CIW Foundations v5 certificate please visit www.hlcsuccess.com

-ends-

Notes to editors:

About Home Learning College

Established in 1989, Home Learning College is the largest specialist provider of home learning courses in the UK, with over 30,000 students studying for a new career. Home Learning College provides courses in Book-keeping, IT and Computing, Business, Social Care, Marketing, Web Design, Travel and Insurance. All courses lead to professional CV enhancing, employer recognised qualifications. All tutor support services are provide by Home Learning College.

For further information please contact:

Laura Parrotta

Home Learning College

Tel: 020 8676 6011

Email: pr@homelearningcollege.com